

The West Michigan Chapter of the Association of Government Accountants presents the

Governmental Accounting Training Series

AGA West Michigan's premier training series features three information-packed days of governmental CPE. Each level offers 8 hours of CPE, and costs just $150 per day¹, including lunch! Since its inception in 2006, the GATS has had over 300 participants, and is fast becoming one of the state's leading training programs designed to provide elected officials and others charged with the responsibility of governmental accounting with a basic understanding of the principles of governmental GAAP, and to enhance their skills for accomplishing this important function. This training is ideal for elected officials, clerks, treasurers, bookkeepers, and others desiring a better understanding of governmental accounting and internal controls.

About the AGA

AGA is the member organization for government financial management professionals. Through training and events, professional certification, publications and ongoing education, AGA helps members build their skills and advance their careers. AGA is committed to increasing government accountability and transparency and has been instrumental in assisting with the development of accounting and auditing standards and in generating new concepts for the effective organization and administration of government financial management.

Our more than 14,000 members, who include elected officials, senior executives, mid-level managers, entry-level employees and students, work in government financial management professions including accounting, auditing, budgeting, financial reporting, performance reporting, grants management, contract management and information systems.

There are three AGA Chapters in Michigan, and they work closely together to serve our common goal. The Detroit Chapter is currently being revitalized, and AGA West Michigan is assisting by bringing its flagship training event to southeast Michigan.
